Introduction

Since commencing operations in Australia in 1979, Dayco Australia has grown rapidly. Dayco is a global business, with manufacturing, research & development and distribution in all key markets of the world.

Markets

Dayco Aftermarket – manufactures and distributes belts, hoses and related cooling system components for virtually every automotive, light commercial, ATV, Scooter and heavy duty application.

Research and development

Dayco's involvement in both the original equipment and Aftermarket segments of the business give the company a distinct competitive advantage. As a major supplier to automobile manufacturers, Dayco OEM engineers are developing future automotive technologies that are quickly incorporated into our aftermarket products. This connection enables us to bring quality replacement products to today's Aftermarket that meet or exceed OEM standards.

Manufacturing

At the Dayco manufacturing facilities, quality is built into every product because of our quality-in-process systems. These systems employ closed-loop, computer monitored and controlled quality checks at critical points throughout the manufacturing process. All of these plants have been recognised with quality awards from OEM and/or Aftermarket Customers, and have received TS-16949 Certification – the automotive equivalent of ISO 9002.

Most importantly

As a customer responsive company, Dayco Aftermarket sees each of our individual customers as the judge of our quality both in products and service. By meeting and whenever possible, exceeding customer needs, Dayco Australia Aftermarket constantly renews our commitment to every customer's ultimate business success.

Management system policy statement

Dayco Australia Pty. Ltd is a supplier of world-class automotive products, primarily under the Dayco brand name. Dayco product line-up includes OE systems, sub-systems and components in the areas of power transmission and fluid transfer, drive belts, timing belts, tensioners, pulleys, harmonic balancers, all types of automotive hose and other cooling system components. The Dayco team is dedicated to the ongoing maintenance of our management systems throughout the company and in concert with our suppliers, customers and appointed distributors. The management systems require commitment to providing products and services that consistently meet our customers' quality and environmental needs and expectations and to continuously improve in all that we do.

At Dayco Australia, we are committed to achieving the following organisational objectives:

- Implementation of continuous quality and environmental ethics and standards that are appropriately communicated and clearly understood by all employees.
- Setting objectives and targets that demonstrate a commitment to the continual improvement of our quality and environmental performance.

- Maintaining management's commitment to the prevention of pollution and compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, and other requirements relevant to our industry, conventions and local community.

- Providing a work environment conducive to employee involvement and empowerment through teamwork.

- Providing training necessary to support and enhance the continuous improvement process.

- Establishing a work environment that stimulates and promotes open two-way communications with our customers, employees and suppliers.

- Ensuring the ongoing effectiveness and suitability of our management systems through planned internal and external audits and management reviews.

- To make this Policy Statement freely available to all interested parties.

Dayco Management Systems have been audited and certified by an independent authority to comply with current automotive and environmental international standards.

All employees will be encouraged to contribute to the development and improvement of the management systems through their work teams. Once authorized, management systems requirements must be consistently observed and adhered to by all employees.

The Dayco fact finder system

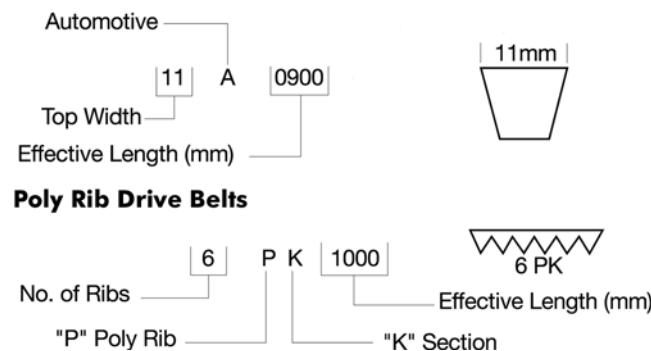

The Dayco fact finder system provides a simplified approach to stocking, selling and merchandising automotive V-belts and Poly rib belts. Belts are one of the highest volume lines in the aftermarket and you can take advantage of this important market by selling Dayco with the unique fact finder system.

In addition, Dayco belts are numbered in fixed increments—by top width and 5 mm length—from smallest to largest. In most cases, the next size will be 5 or 10 mm larger or smaller. This means if the belt you're looking for is sold out, you can usually use the next closest belt in its place—and you won't miss the sale.

The part number system that makes sense

With the Dayco fact finder system there's no guessing about belt sizes. The part number tells it all! See the samples below:-

Automotive V-Belts

Proper belt tension is critical

Don't guess tension. Make the replacement complete with proper tension. Proper tension is as important as proper size.

Modern engines require increased belt capacity and operating efficiency. Also, industry changes to smaller engine compartments has resulted in a hotter environment for V-belts and has necessitated more compact accessory packaging, resulting in a reduced belt to pulley contact. Insufficient belt tension causes slippage, squealing, heat build-up, belt roll-over and premature failure. Our engineers recommend careful belt tensioning. A normal but significant reduction of installation tension of a new belt occurs as a result of belt seating. To prevent slippage it is very important that the belt be retensioned after running engine for 3 to 5 minutes to seat belt. Do not over tension the belt.

After seating belt, reset tension to amount recommended in the retension amount column of belt tension table shown below. Always use a belt tension gauge to determine the proper tension. Application information is provided, or is available for each product listed in this catalogue. Should any questions arise concerning the safe and proper procedures refer to the proper repair manual or contact your distributor, the manufacturer, or a qualified technician.

Belt tension table

DRIVE	BELT TOP WIDTH	NEW BELT INSTALLATION AMOUNT lbs. Tension	RETENSION AMOUNT BELT COLD* (New belt after 3-5 min. run- in or used/in-service belt) lbs. Tension
MULTIPLE BELT DRIVES All drives using matched sets	All	100 per belt	90 per belt
SINGLE BELT DRIVES Fan/water pump	Up to 24/32" 24/32" & Up	110 130	90 100
Generator	All	90	70
Alternator	All	110	90
Power steering/hydraulic pump	All	120	95
Vacuum pump	Up to 15/32" 15/32" & Up	90 110	75 90
Air pump	Up to 15/32" 15/32" & Up	90 110	75 90
Air conditioning/ Air brake compressor	All	130	105
Ribbed type belt Multiple single accessory	3 & 4 Rib	120	80
		150	100
(Note: on drives with automatic tensioner, run-in & retensioning is unnecessary)	5 Rib	180	120
	6 or more ribs

Check tension when belt is hot: However, it is important that belt be allowed to cool before retensioning. Always retension new belts if tension is less than retension amount.

Used & in-service belts (tension maintenance):

1. Retension V-belts if tension drops below 50#.
2. Retension Multi-rib belts if tension drops below 20# per rib on belts of 3, 15# per rib on 4, 5, or 6 ribs. On belts of 7 rib or more, retension if tension drops below 10# per rib.

WARNING – safety note

Failure to follow recommended application information and procedures for installation, care or maintenance may result in serious bodily injury, damage to property, or failure to perform properly. Make sure the product selected is recommended for that application.

Belt installation guide

For locked tension drives

(Nearly all V-belts and many Ribbed belts use locked tension; as opposed to spring loaded.) To remove belt, pivot bolt and lock bolt (or bolts) should be loosened so the driven accessory will swing in to release belt tension. If this proves difficult, here are some things to check:

Some accessories have 2 or 3 lock (or slot) bolts.

- The slots may be on either end or both ends, of the accessory.
- Some drives are tensioned by an adjustable idler.
- Sometimes it is necessary to loosen both ends of an adjustment arm.

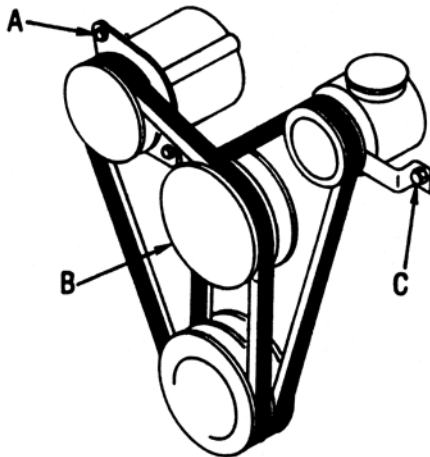

When installing new belt, if belt seems too short:

- Read the instructions and safety warnings on page C.
- Make sure belt is in correct grooves.
- Try putting belt on over a different pulley last.
- In a few instances of very limited adjustment, it may be necessary to remove the slot bolt completely.

Never pry belt on

Tension and run-in according to recommendations on the belt sleeve.

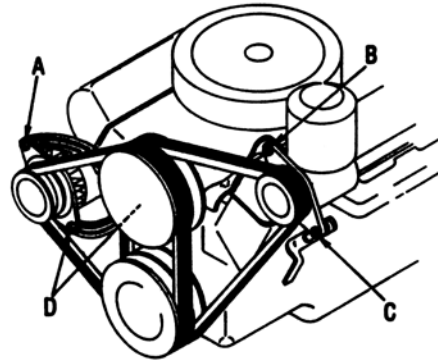

Two typical locked tension V-belt drives are shown below.

Method and sequence of removal

All

1. Loosen alternator adjusting nut A and pivot bolts underneath alternator.
2. Move alternator toward engine and remove belt.
3. Loosen power steering locking nut C and move pump downward to remove belt.
4. Install belts over fan pulley B last.

Method and sequence of removal

Fan

1. Loosen bolts A and D.
2. Start removal from generator pulley.

Power Steering Pump

1. Loosen bolt B and steering pump pivot bolt C.
2. Turn pump downward.
3. Start removal from pump pulley.

For springloaded tensioner belt drives

Before removing belt note routing. Most vehicles have a decal to show drive belt routing and it usually shows which pulley is the tensioner and the direction of tensioner movement. A routing diagram may also be provided in the owner's manual. If no routing diagram is provided, a diagram could be sketched before the belt is removed.

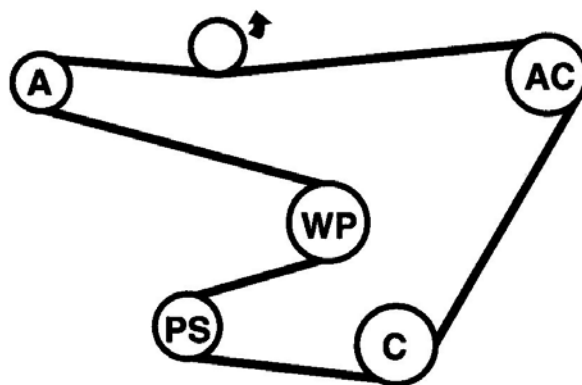

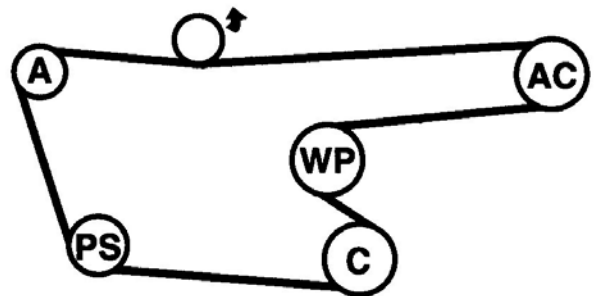

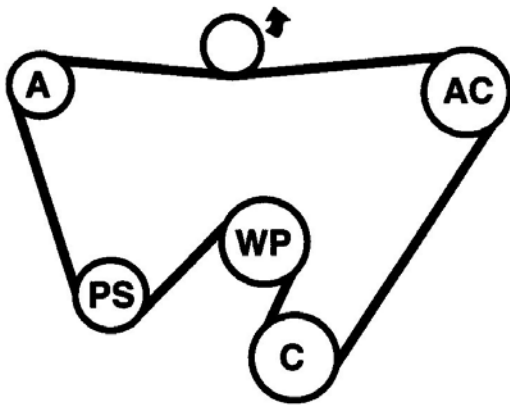

In order to remove the belt, the springloaded tensioner pulley must be moved in a direction away from the belt, so that the tension is released. Most tensioners have a square hole in the tensioner body so that a breakover bar may be used for leverage.

If a square hole is not provided, sometimes a socket can be used on the tensioner pulley centre bolt to release the tension.

If the belt must be installed without the benefit of any routing information, here are some things to remember: the grooved side of the belt always runs on grooved pulley never against smooth surface. Smooth side (back) of belt never runs on pulley grooves.

Look at the same 3 methods of routing of the same drive.

Note that the water pump pulley is the only one where routing is actually changed. If one routing doesn't work, try another.

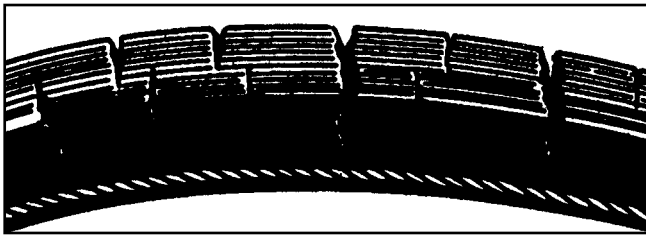

Belts – what do they do?

The belts under your bonnet are responsible for powering many different components including:

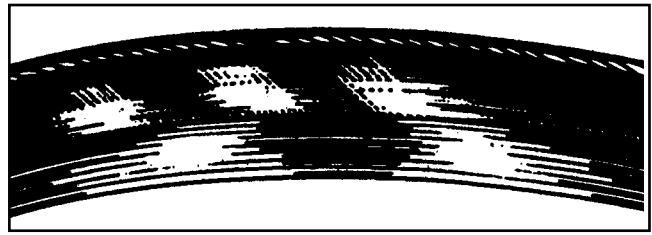

- cooling fan
- alternator
- power steering
- air conditioning compressor

Proper installation and maintenance of belt tension is required to provide maximum efficiency of all accessory drives. This will ensure peak performance and safety.

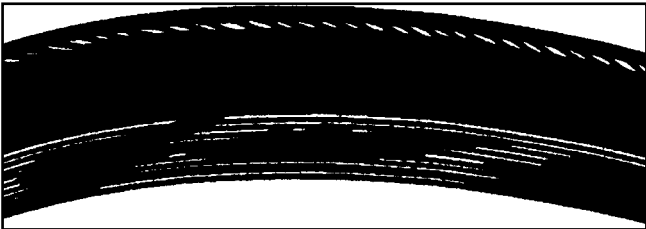

Replace a belt when...

Cracked or split – check for cracks or splits on the bottom sides of the belt as it flexes. A cracked and or split belt can fail at any time.

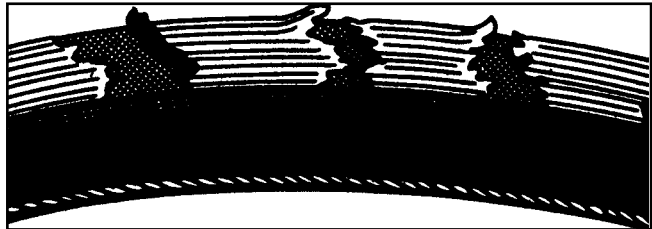

Glazed – A belt with slick, hard sides doesn't function properly. This can cause a radiator or other components to overheat.

Grease – Grease build up causes the belt to soften, deteriorate and fail.

Ribs chunk out – This belt can fail at any time.

Peeling – When the undersurface of a belt peels, it becomes uneven, causing rough operation and failure.

Caution

Extreme care should be taken to avoid pry bar damage on power steering body and alternator end covers. Do not force the belt into grooves by prying or cranking the engine. Such abuse will result in permanent damage and extremely early belt failure, or may result in personal injury or property damage.

Drive belts

	Problem	Problem cause	Solution
1.	Rapid Wear	• Slippage • Misalignment • Worn - damaged sheaves • Belts hitting framework • Abrasive environment • Overloaded • Excessive tension	• Retension • Realign • Replace • Provide Clearance • Shield drive • Redesign • Retension
2.	Frequent Breakage	• Improper installation • Shock loads • Severe whip • Interference	• Replace belts • Redesign • Increase tension • Shield drive
3.	Excessive Slippage	• Undertensioned • Overloading • Belts bottoming • Concave sheave sidewalls • Oil - grease exposure	• Retension • Redesign • Replace sheaves • Replace sheaves • Shield drive
4.	Excessive Stretch	• Overloaded • Insufficient take-up • Excessive tension • Fixed Centres	• Redesign • Increase adjustment • Retension • Minimum stretch belts
5.	Mismatched Belts	• Misalignment • Undertensioned • Belts of different brands • New and used belts in set • Unequal groove dimensions • Different belts matched	• Realign • Retension • Replace belts • Replace set • Replace sheaves • Replace belts
6.	Radial Cracking	• Excessive heat • Diameters too small • Slippage • Chemical attack	• Ventilate drive • Redesign / change pulleys • Retension • Shield drive
7.	Belts Jumping Grooves	• Misalignment • Undertensioned • Severe whip • Severe vibration • Interference • Idler in wrong location • Flimsy framework	• Realign • Retension • Shorter centre distance • Shorter centre distance • Shield drive • Relocate idler • Reinforce

9.	Excessive Vibration	• Resonant condition • Pulsating loads • Unbalanced sheaves • Flimsy frameworks • Excessive wobble • Excessive eccentricity	• Change CD / belt quantity / use idler • Increase tension / WR2 • Dynamic balance • Reinforce • Replace sheaves • Replace sheaves

Important facts about Dayco automatic belt tensioners

"We'll build on the technology we introduced in the development of our OE Heavy Duty Tensioner to engineer a version for passenger and light truck tensioner applications."

Dayco Research and Development committee. 1980

Dayco has been a pioneer in Original Equipment automatic belt tensioners since obtaining their first tensioner patent in 1976; progressing through the development of the revolutionary serpentine belt drive system for the 1979 Ford Mustang and ultimately, the development and patenting of the first production "flat spring" automotive tensioner in 1984.

In 1997, Dayco scored another first by introducing the Dayco Tensioner to the Aftermarket. In the process, Dayco generated a completely new and profitable avenue of sales for automotive part suppliers. The Dayco commitment to the Aftermarket then — as it continues to be — was "to continually set the industry standard for tensioner quality and VIO tensioner replacement coverage."

Facts to consider

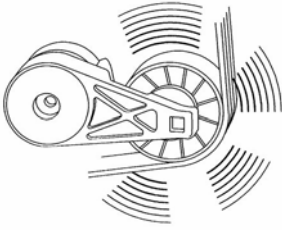

- Dayco manufactures automotive and heavy-duty tensioners for both Original Equipment and Aftermarket Applications.
- Technology developed for Dayco manufactured heavy-duty tensioners is incorporated into the
- Dayco manufactured passenger car and light truck tensioner line.
- Dayco engineered tensioners for the Aftermarket utilize the same components used to build
- Dayco Original Equipment Tensioners.
- Dayco Original Equipment and Aftermarket tensioners are built in Dayco's QS9000/ISO9001 facility in Springdale, Arkansas.
- Dayco manufactured Aftermarket tensioners are designed to fit and perform to Original
- Equipment specifications regardless of mid-year model changes.
- Dayco manufactured tensioners feature the unique, patented "flat spring" design.
- Dayco manufactured tensioners utilise tough, long lasting cast aluminium housing and arms.
- Pulleys incorporated into Dayco tensioners feature smoother surfaces; tighter tolerances and lifetime lubricated ball bearings.

Tensioners — what do they do?

Serpentine drive systems utilize a single long belt which "snakes" around most, if not all, of the accessory pulleys. The Dayco Automatic Belt Tensioner utilizes a "flat spring" technology, which allows for an increase in torque to be transmitted to the belt when needed. In a conventional V-belt system, this torque is limited to static tension due to the belt adjustments having locked centers. If, when installed, the belt was tensioned insufficiently, or if the belt has stretched or worn through use, it will slip when placed under a load resulting in poor accessory performance and premature belt failure. If the belt was over tensioned when installed, there is risk of premature accessory bearing failure. A spring-loaded automatic tensioner compensates for the belt's stretch and wear by maintaining a constant tension on the belt throughout the life of the belt.

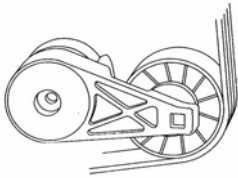

Replace a tensioner when

Tensioner noise

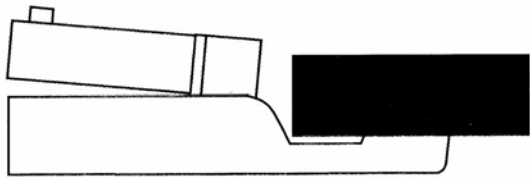

Listen closely to the tensioner when the engine is running. When the engine is shut off and the belt is removed...check the pulley for free rotation. If you hear noise or feel resistance to turning this could be the sound of impending bearing failure.

Loss of tension

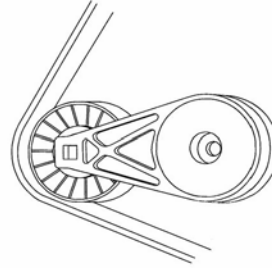

Tension Loss is evidenced by belt squeal or an accessory that has stopped working completely.

Metal to metal contact

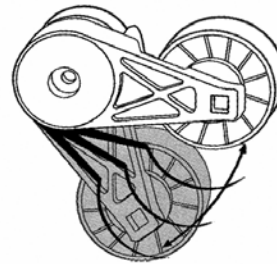

If there is any metal to metal contact between arm and spring case, this is a sign of spring bushing or pivot bushing wear.

Belt tracking improperly

If the belt is tracking off centre, at or off the edge of the pulley, or if the belt flips off the tensioner, this is a sign of bushing wear resulting in tensioner misalignment.

Sticking or notchy movement

When removing or replacing the belt, check the tensioner torque by applying torque to move the tensioner arm from stop to stop. The arm should move smoothly and without hesitation.

Broken or cracked tensioner "stops"

When removing or replacing the belt, check the tensioner "stops" located on both the tensioner arm and on the spring case to see if they are broken.

Features and benefits

All components of the Dayco Automatic Belt Tensioner have been selected for their individual characteristics such as weight, wear protection, lubricity, overall strength and deflection rates. Typical component materials include high-grade spring steel, diecast aluminium and engineered resins. These materials and engineering expertise have resulted in the design of a tensioner, which will deliver the proper output torque required to maintain belt tension throughout the service life of the system. Dayco Automatic Belt Tensioners...built to outperform and outlast competitive OR parts.

Features

- Steel locator pin
- Heavy duty cast aluminium spring case
- Thermoplastic rubber spring slot plug
- Steel pivot tube (where application demands)
- Lubricated Nylon pivot tube bushing
- Teflon strip
- Coated flat wire spring
- Nylon spring bushing
- Heavy duty cast aluminium tensioner arm
- Rubber "O" ring
- Aluminium end cap
- Engineered crowned glass filler polymer pulley (or steel where application demands)
- Pulley dust cover
- Zinc coated mounting bolt

Benefits

- Properly located tensioner
- Resists cracking and fatigue
- Protects against detrimental environmental elements
- Provides additional strength for critical torque requirements
- Promotes quieter performance and longer life
- Abrasion resistant
- Permits spring to operate smoothly and efficiently
- Coated to resist rust
- Concentric, provides a more even degree of constant tension
- Promotes quieter performance
- Maintains pulley alignment
- Assures additional strength and less distortion
- Seals against dust and grime
- Locks spring case and arm together
- Provides seal against corrosion
- Meets OEM performance standards
- Pulley bearing lubricated for life
- Keeps belts running in the center of pulley
- Protects against detrimental environmental elements
- Resists rust and corrosion

HOW TO IDENTIFY WORN BELTS

“1 out of every 5 vehicles on the road have a belt that needs to be replaced, and looking for cracks or listening for noise won’t find them.”

1980 - 2000

Belts were made with a Neoprene compound and were expected to last 80,000 - 115,000km. It was easy to identify worn Neoprene belts.

CRACKS

2001 - Today

Belts are now made with a EPDM compound. EPDM belts can last over 135,000km and wear completely different. They lose rubber like a tyre and usually

DON'T CRACK

Today, a tool is needed to quickly identify worn belts. Dayco's aWEARness gauge works like a depth gauge.
